

Precision Air Inc. Wins Bid to Replace AC Units at Local Mall

Encinitas Heating and Air Conditioning company replaced old units with help from helicopters at Las Americas Premium Outlets Mall in San Diego, California.

A large team of Precision Heating and Air Conditioning skilled technicians replaced the old AC and heating units atop the Las Americas Mall last week. Clark's Shoe Store needed 2 rooftop units for their business at the San Ysidro location. Precision Air won the bid over other HVAC companies with their seasoned team of trade professionals and top customer service.

Starting before sunrise for set-up and perimeter security, the old units were removed at 7 am by the helicopter service, Corporate Helicopters of San Diego. With a team of 5 ground and flight crew, new rooftop units were flown up onto the roof to a waiting team of technicians. Clark's was able to use their new unit by the time they opened their store at 10 am.

Precision Air Inc., was founded by Stephen Diefenderfer when after 10 years in the HVAC business he saw the need for a company that took pride in workmanship with skilled technicians. His seasoned team of professionals each have 10 or more years of experience in the business and believe and follow in Diefenderfer's principle of providing excellent customer service. The organization has quickly grown, setting them apart from other companies with their customers recognizing Precision Air's HVAC technical abilities and high customer satisfaction.

Clark's Shoe Store at Las Americas Mall needed a HVAC company that had trade professionals skilled in installing commercial rooftop systems. The job also required a team large enough and who had the resources to get the units on the roof as well as done in a timely and safe manner without disruption to the Las Americas Mall. Precision Air has experience in commercial installs along with the procedures and protocols to complete the job. Precision Air met the criteria over numerous other companies and completed the job with their knowledgeable team.

"We pride ourselves on being a one stop shop that is able to meet all of our client's needs," says Stephen Diefenderfer, owner and operator of Precision Air, Inc., "Our goal is to provide the highest quality design and installation services, on schedule, and on budget along with outstanding customer service."

In addition to commercial and industrial services, Precision Air also works on residential including installation, inspections, maintenance and repair, and preparation of air conditioning and heating. They use state of the art diagnostic equipment to analyze problems working throughout San Diego County.
